

We have made some solid progress through the first couple week sof our project. Although we are not as far as we had originally anticipated, but this was discussed on the first day of our presentation. We have our architecture decisions made and they are being put into place. Please see the sprint documents to see the work we have remaining.